DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

MOSTLY HILL was built originally about 1895-1910 as the gardener's cottage for FINLAGEN (q.v.). It has been enlarged in almost all directions. The original portion of this frame house is three irregular bays in length with a gambrel roof. Its principal facade is to the east and a porch with a low-pitched shed roof extends across that facade. An addition with a similar roofline extends across the west facade, a taller and deeper addition is to the north, two bays in length with a gambrel roof. A shed-roofed dormer with a double 6/6 window is centered in each front of the original section and a small brick chimney pierces the middle of the roof. The original German siding is now covered with aluminum siding but the original wood louvred blinds remain in place at the 6/6 windows.

The principal entrance, off-center to the north, opens into a small entry with a staircase ascending in the northeast corner of the house in three short runs. A large room is to the south with a fireplace on its north wall, originally two rooms with corner fireplaces; a small room is west of the hall. Interior trim is routed, with corner blocks. The moulded rail of the staircase is supported by square newels and turned balusters rising above a closed string.

The foundation of the corner fireplaces remains in the cellar where the straight-sawn floor joists are exposed.

West of the dwelling is a small frame barn contemporary with the dwelling. North of the house is a small square stone spring house with a pyramidal roof, its entrance in its south wall and small unglazed window openings are in the other walls.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

Once the gardener's cottage of an important late nineteenth century house, FINLAGEN (q.v.), MOSTLY HILL has been enlarged as a small suburban residence. Two early outbuildings remain indicating that even a supporting cottage on a large estate required its own supporting buildings.

"Mostly Hill"

"Mostly Hill" was built between 1895 - 1910 by Charles Morton Stewart Jr. as a gardeners cottage for "Finlagen".¹ No one lived in the cottage during the years of the depression starting around 1929. At that time the house had neither electricity nor running water. In 1943 Charles M. Stewart gave "Mostly Hill" to his daughter, Margaret Chew Stewart Williams, shortly after her marriage to Richard Williams.² She remodelled and enlarged the house and is still living in it today.

"Mostly Hill"

"Mostly Hill" was built on a piece of land that was originally a part of the Cliffholm Estate. This particular parcel of land probably came from the two purchases made by Charles Morton Stewart as follows:

On Oct. 24, 1864 from Dr. William Gibson to Charles Morton Stewart by Liber J.H.L. No. 42 folio 532.
On Feb. 24, 1880 from Richard F. Maynard to Charles Morton Stewart by Liber W.M.I. No. 116 folio 71.

On March 14, 1908, Josephine Lurman Stewart (widow of Charles Morton Stewart) then sold the property to Sophia M. Stewart (wife of Charles M. Stewart Jr.) by deed Liber W.P.C. No. 325 folio 433. Sophia M. Stewart sold the property to her husband (C. M. Stewart Jr.) on Aug. 27, 1928 by deed Liber No. 660 folio 294. He i turn gave it to his daughter, Peggy (Stewart) Williams on March 17, 1943 by deed Liber No. 1280 folio 570. Mrs. Peggy Williams lives in the house at the present time.
